Hi! My name is Audrey B. Welcome to Medina! You're going to love my city! Here are some suggestions on how to plan out your day, and some cool places around. First, breakfast at Cool Beans is a classic! With fun menu options and amazing coffees, this is the way to go! After Cool Beans, head over to Sweets & Geeks! Not only do they have unique candy, stuffed animals and anything from your favorite fandom, but my favorite part is their library of board games, where you can check out a game for any age! Next, head to Black Cat Books and Oddities for a new read! With different sections for different genres and ages, there is a book for everyone! After that, I'd go to Nibble. Not only do they have the best sweet treats for an afternoon snack, but upstairs is the perfect place for teens. With different games, decor, crafts and more, I always love seeing what's new. By now you're probably getting hungry, so I'd recommend Big Dog Daddy's for lunch. On Saturdays there's usually live music. Paired with Medina Brewing Co. drinks it's the perfect meal! After that, I'd run to The Common Ground, where there are constantly events and I always leave with a smile. Whether you're playing cornhole or shopping for some homemade decor, the Common Ground is for you! After a long day, it's always good to spend family time at Foundry Social. I'd run a few rounds of High Voltage go-karts, then play some duck-pin bowling and check out the vintage video games before sitting down and eating some dinner. Foundry Social has something for everyone! By now you're nearing the end of your day, so sneak over to Dolce! They have Italian Gelato and other amazing desserts, and my mom says she loves their cocktails (I can't drink those yet!) Have fun and enjoy Medina! We're glad you're here, and hope you stick around. I hope you will be able to visit my hometown!

Ohio Pie: The Creation of Ohio-Style Pizza

By Olivia LaScola, BEAT reporter

In Brunswick, Ohio Pie has become a staple in the local community since opening in February, 2019. Founded by Nick Robson, Ohio Pie introduced the Original Ohio Style Pizza to the community and quickly became a local favorite, and expanded to Rocky River and Parma. With high-quality ingredients and a pizza recipe that took a year to perfect, Ohio Pie has distinguished itself from other nearby pizza restaurants, building a strong following in the local community.

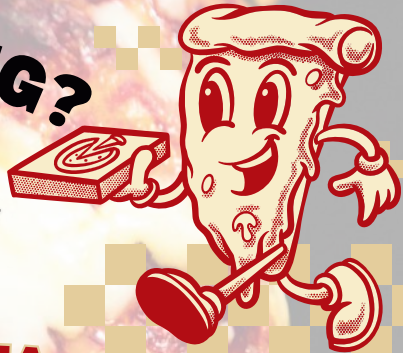

Since childhood, Robson dreamed of opening a pizzeria, and making and selling pizza with his friends. For a large portion of his life, he worked in pizza shops and traveled the country, eating pizza from various pizzerias across the country. This experience helped him to develop his dream pizza, and to open Ohio Pie. Community is important to Robson, Who says, “[On] Christmas Day we give out pizzas for free with my family and friends to anyone who needs a good meal or some human interaction.”

The attention to detail in food quality, decor, service, and processes all set Ohio Pie apart from other pizza shops. Robson said “We have a wide menu of vegan and vegetarian options which also help with dairy allergies, and always make sure we’re aware of any potential allergens and have processes to avoid any potential cross contamination or issues,” stated Robson.

The Brunswick Ohio Pie location is special to Robson. “It’s the original store and the perfect current day version of the classic pizzerias I love,” he said.

Honey Bee Bakery

Creates Sweet Treats

By Marlee Perrin, BEAT reporter

Walking into Honey Bee Bakery (23 Public Square, Medina) is like a warm hug. With a wonderful aroma of baked goods including cinnamon, apple, and maple, you are surrounded by all those delicious cakes and cookies just waiting for you to choose your favorite one. Kimberly McDonald, the owner of The Honey Bee Bakery said that owning her own business is “A gift from God.”

She started her own business in January of 2021 after her former boss mentored her until she was ready to take the company on as her own. McDonald’s interest in baked goods started by following business in Texas while baking from home. McDonald’s skill and interest grew as she worked part time at Honey Bee before becoming the owner.

She explained the best part of owning your own business is the freedom for her to make it her own. McDonald’s business has just passed the five-year mark in January 2026. She said that owning your own business can be intimidating at times but inspiring the next. Her advice to potential new business owners is

CLIMB, BUILD & MAKE-BELIEVE

AT PLAYVILLE PLAY CAFE

By Emma Tereshchuk, BEAT reporter

Have you ever wanted your kids to be able to play and make friends while you are able to talk with others? If so, then PlayVille is the place for you! While you sit back, relax and socialize, your kids are also able to play, learn, and make new friends.

In August of 2025, Shelly Mitchell and Kayleen Kozub, Playville co-owners, opened PlayVille's doors in the Hickory Ridge Shopping Center in Brunswick. PlayVille is an indoor area with a jungle theme added to the small town play area with a playground where they teach social and motor skills while having and games. PlayVille provides many events and hosts birthday parties. Each play session usually lasts about 3 hours whether it's in the morning or evening and is geared towards 7 years and under.

Mitchell and Kozub were inspired to open PlayVille when they thought that Brunswick needed a place for young families to have fun. Mitchell explained, "We wanted to create a place that would serve the community in many different ways. Our space encourages social, emotional, physical and educational opportunities all while learning to be a good community partner." Now that PlayVille opened they are looking forward to all the amazing things headed their way. Mitchell said, "We want to offer many opportunities to give back to the community, leaving a footprint that is encouraging, caring and most of all fun!"
